Coppelstone Caveman-Era Figures (High Adventure line):

C25 Cavewomen - 4 figures, 30mm, separate weapons, nudity, Tanui or Yorwa

C26 Cavemen - 4 figures, 30mm, separate weapons, Yorwa

C29 More Cavemen - 5 figures, 30mm, some with separate weapons, one is a cave boy, Yorwa (cave boy and beardless male could be Tanui)

C47 Caveman Characters - 4 figures, 30mm, leader w/axe, archer, 2 shamans, all male, Yorwa

Coppelstone Castings Reviews:

The sculpts and poses are solid. Thematically, they run more toward Hollywood than historical accuracy - but in a good way. I wish they would do a Cavewoman Characters pack, though! The price - even with shipping to the US from the UK, was quite reasonable. I received mine within 2 weeks of ordering. -Jeff Dee

Lucid Eye - <http://arcanesceneryandmodels.co.uk/product-category/lucid-eye/>

Too many to list individually!

Lucid Eye Miniatures Reviews:

Very nicely sculpted 28mms. Modest ranges of Cro-Magnons and Neanderthals, suitable for Yorwa and Rogok. Their Mammoth Hunt set offers a good sized Mammoth. Their 'Planet of the Apes' - inspired Simians might work for Maheechee, if you added a tail. Their Amazons and Jaguar Warriors would be good for slightly more advanced tribes. -Jeff Dee

Maidenhead Miniatures - <http://members.optushome.com.au/cynan/Miniatures.htm>

Too many to list individually!

Maidenhead Miniatures Reviews:

Technically these are 'barbarians', not prehistorics, but due to the predominance of leather and bone implements most would work just fine. Also, these figures are all female - so this is a great place to look for those hard-to-find cavewoman warrior figs.

Mega Miniatures - www.MegaMinis.com

MegaMiniatures Caveman-Compatible Figures (Fantasy Arabian Line):

DEAL-0411 Arabian Slave Male - 27mm, Rogok, Tanui or Yorwa

MegaMiniatures Caveman-Compatible Figures (Fantasy Human NPC Line):

DEAL-0348 Druid Man with mace - 1 figure, 25mm, Rogok or Yorwa

DEAL-0800 Female Mage (Werner Klocke) - 1 figure, 30mm, Tanui or Yorwa

MegaMiniatures Caveman-Era Figures (Fantasy Monsters Line):

MEM-44107 Cavemen x 12 - 12 figures, 28mm, separate torsos. Rogok

Mega Miniatures Reviews:

The Arabian Slave male isn't a great mini, but it was inexpensive and serviceable. That's my reaction to most of these figures. Only the Female Druid is really very *good*, and important too as one of the few workable cavewoman shamans I could find anywhere. The pack of 12 cavemen looks better in their photo than in real life; the sculpts are crude, and the poses static. Inexpensive, yes, but mostly you get what you pay for. Shipping was prompt (about 1 week). -Jeff Dee

Reaper - <http://www.reapermini.com/>

Reaper Caveman-Era & Compatible Figures:

02395 Caveman Pack (not reviewed)

03140 Ollamiel, Male Sea Elf - 1 figure, 32mm, separate spear-hand, Tanui

03141 Sushanthe, Female Sea Elf - 1 figure, 30mm, Tanui

60020 Lini, Iconic Gnome Druid & Droogami, Snow Leopard - 2 figures, girl is 24mm, Tanui or Yorwa

60093 Charau-Ka Warriors, 3 figures, 20mm, some separate weapon-arms, Maheechee

60094 Raogru, Charau-Ka Shaman, 1 figure, 20mm, Maheechee

P02395d Cavewoman with Staff, 1 figure, 25mm, Rogok or Yorwa

Reaper Reviews:

Reaper's sculptures and poses are excellent. Their Sea Elf minis make excellent Tanui, but they only have 2 of 'em. Lini is the only figure I've found that would work for a little cave girl. The Charau-Ka are monkeys with primitive weapons, though they lack tails making them not 100% perfect for Maheechee. Their Cavewoman with Staff is one of the few cavewoman shamans I've been able to find anywhere. Reaper is expensive, but shipping was prompt (about 1 week). -Jeff Dee

Steve Barber Models - <http://stevebarbermodels.com/>

28mm Prehistoric Settlement Range. Too many to list individually!

Steve Barber Models Reviews:

Pretty good sculpts. A distinct lack of female warriors or shamans, but the line includes 'miner' and 'berry picker' figures for your crafters and gatherers. They also have a pretty good selection of paleo creatures, and even trees and buildings. Definitely worth a look!

The Tékumel Club - <http://thetekumelclub.blogspot.ca/p/the-palace-of-ever-glorious-war.html>

Tékumel Project Caveman-Compatible Figures (Lorún Line):

[Catalog Numbers Not Yet Available - Figures Coming Soon]

Law Speaker and Apprentice - 2 figures, fanciful headdress & staff, Yorwa/Rogok (Law Speaker) or Yorwa/Tanui/Rogok (Apprentice)

Drummer - kneeling, separate alien creature drum, Yorwa

Skyclad Ritual Dancers (3) - unarmed females, Yorwa/Tanui

Girl with Animal Sacrifice - kneeling with knife, separate alien animal, Yorwa/Tanui

Totem Bearer - female holding up giant bird skull, Yorwa/Tanui

Hag (Shamaness) - ritual staff, aggressive, Yorwa/Tanui/Rogok

Princess - fanciful outfit & staff, Yorwa/Tanui

Tékumel Project Reviews:

I may be biased, since I'm a huge Tekumel fan (and I've done unrelated work for the Tekumel Project), but I think these are excellent. Line includes a female shaman (hard to find elsewhere). A few minor elements are too alien for Cavemaster but are easily removed. Notably lacking any warrior or hunter figures, but they're probably in the works. -Jeff Dee

Turnkey Miniatures - www.turnkeyminiatures.com

Set of Wildmen x12 - 12 figures, 28mm, separate torsos and legs. Rogok. Part No. TKM99-012

Female Mage - 1 figure. 25mm, Rogok or Yorwa. Part No. TKM03-003

Druid with Mace - 1 figure, 25mm, Rogok or Yorwa. Part No. TKM03-005

Golem Female - 1 figure, 25mm, Rogok, Part No TKM06-048

Also a wide variety of animal life listed under "Animals" and "Sets" that would be Cavemaster compatible. -MikeB
